Visual SenseMaking

Introductory Skill-Building Workshop

May 16, 2009 | New York City | 10:00 am – 5:00 pm

Taught by Elizabeth Pastor, Co-founder and Partner, Humantific

What is Visual SenseMaking?

Visual SenseMaking is the activity of making sense of ambiguous complex situations through visual methods and tools including words, images, drawings, diagrams, charts, graphs, etc. This involves not only visual thinking, but creating visual ordering systems.

While the skill of Visual SenseMaking can be broadly applied to many life situations on planet earth, we will focus on Visual SenseMaking in the context of organizations, organizational situations, systems, processes, challenges, opportunities, etc.

Is Humantific Visual SenseMaking different?

Yes! The Visual SenseMaking that we teach is not about drawing conversations. We overlay an adaptable problem solving logic that makes for a much more robust toolkit applicable to serious business challenges of all types. This workshop takes you inside the world of Visual SenseMaking at Humantific. Previously only offered as part of our extensive Complexity Navigation Program, this new one-day stand-alone session is geared for business leaders who seek to get started on the road to becoming a Visual SenseMaker.

About Humantific

For more than ten years, the Humantific team has been helping business leaders make sense of complex business challenges and opportunities utilizing its hybrid Visual SenseMaking toolbox. With extensive experience working with organizations we understand deeply that before meaningful ChangeMaking occurs, meaningful SenseMaking needs to occur.

TIME Magazine recently referred to Humantific as "A new breed of consultant using the tools of design to solve business problems creatively." Long-time client, Daniel Palestrant, CEO of Sermo (the first social network for physicians), recently described the experience of working with Humantific as "part strategy, part therapy, part design!"
